

As a micro-business owner I understand competition. It has helped make America what it is today. I as a consumer of American and forien products am always looking for better products. When I heard about XM Satelite Radio I was quite excited. I live in a rual area and FM and AM Radio are undependable and limeted. After buying my fist XM I was hooked and didnt listen to the local radio any more, due to XM's supirier quality and varity. XM has done nothing but improve giving more and more variety and less comercials. I have no problem paying for this fine product and belive that, XM will continue to improve service and programing. I have not yet listened to Sirius Radio because I am very happy with XM. I have heard that the quality is as good as XM, I feel that XM has competiton with Sirius radio and this will help them to improve and Keep prices fare. I do not feel that the National Association of Broadcasters can compete with the riseing quality and performance of XM and are attempting to compete through courts. This as we have seen in the past hurts American competiton by slowing progress, and raising costs to do business. I urge the FCC to reject NAB's Petion 04-160 due to the fact that XM is attempting to grow and better there business and the NAB is attempting to stop this because they are unable to compete. I belive the NAB members should look at XM as a growing and succesful business and attempt to improve them selves by competeing with rather than slowing progress. Thank you XM for making your customers aware of your obsicals. I enjoy your service and hope I can help your business grow in this great country. Your service brings much joy to my many hours behind the wheel of my trucks. Sincerly Mike Ellingson (owner of four XM Satelite Radios)
